2010 DRAFT GUIDE

By FinAtic8480

Dolfans, I would like to welcome you to this early edition of Roberto’s Fins Fridays. The day has finally arrived, and in less than 24 hours we will all know who the next big stars will be for our Miami Dolphins. Many names have discussed, but only several will be picked. After several weeks of Draft analysis I am proud to bring to you my personal 2010 Draft Guide.

For the last two years, ever since the Trifecta was hired, I have been making myself a custom Draft Guide that has proven effective.

My first guide was nothing special. In that draft the Dolphins selected Jake Long, Chad Henne and UDFA Davone Bess. I really enjoyed the process that went on with drafting players, so I wanted to get better. I researched on every prospect Miami was linked to, and when draft day came in 2009 I was able to check off several names from my list. This time, Vontae Davis, Pat White, Sean Smith, Brian Hartline & John Nalbone were all in my draft guide. Since then, I have been working on perfecting my draft guide.

I ask all of you to copy and use this guide on Draft day as your own personal tool for when our Miami Dolphins pick. I have included the names of every prospect that has interviewed, met, worked out or been linked to the Dolphins. Included are the height, weight and best results from the prospects' Combine workouts & Pro days.
Also, I was able to confirm several prospect visits to the best of my knowledge for you guys.

Last, but not least, I have included a blank space for you guys to check off on the players our Fins select. This is designed for us fans to have fun while using the guide come Draft day. When the Draft is over we can see how many players the Dolphins actually selected on the Draft guide. I really hope this is a wonderful experience for members of the site and Dolfans everywhere.

Enjoy!

Roberto
