DEFENSE IS HORRIBLE AS BRADY SCORCHES FINS FOR 500 YDS

It was supposed to be about Chad Henne. Could he play well enough to give Miami a chance? Could he provide some offense to go with the top 5 defense so Miami would improve this season. Well problem is that Chad Henne showed up and the defense...well the defense gave the worst performance in perhaps Miami Dolphin history. It was just a disgrace to this franchise, its fans, and its history. The defense was outcoached...out played and just...bad. Chad Henne is all of a sudden not the problem. The Patriots had the vaunted Dolphin defense confused out of place, out of condition and just beat in a way that we have not seen before. There was Brady seemingly standing for minutes waiting for a receiver. Cameron Wake being dominated by a rookie lineman. Burnett and Dansby missing tackles, and the secondary burned play after play after play as Tom Brady rewrote the record book. If Benny Sapp is on this team come Tuesday then Jeff Ireland should be fired. Benny Sapp was so bad that I am praying they find Will Allen and get him back. And in Miami they have not been able to stop a tight end for 20 years and still couldn't stop them. It was just complete and total annihilation. For a team that wanted to sell tickets and restore the fan base this is a disaster.
